Jarell Ebuka Announces the New E.P Dancing In The Flame

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hailing from Abuja, Nigeria, Jarell Ebuka is thrilled to announce the release of his second EP; Dancing In The Flame. This E.P is available on all major platforms as of 24/01/20. Stream Now: <https://fanlink.to/DancingInTheFlame>

Dancing In The Flame centers around learning and growing, relating the life, struggles and insecurities Jarell Ebuka faces as a Nigerian indie artist in his 20's. With this 6 track EP, Jarell draws from his inspiration in the likes of Bob Marley, Fela Kuti, Lucky Dube, John Mayer, Jason Mraz and Tracy Chapman, to name a few. He has been quite experimentative since his 2015 EP which he made evident in "Dancing In The Flame" in the sense that no two songs sound the same but they all have the Jarell Ebuka sound.

Track List

1. The Fire:

With this one, Jarell really embraced his Nigerian roots. This is an upbeat song that raises the middle finger to societal norm with lyrics written in pidgin shedding light on forging your own path unapologetically regardless of what anyone thinks

2. Mr. Nice Guy:

This is a song about growth and has been a fan favourite from the early listens. It's a song about learning unlearning and writing your own story

3. Strangers:

The recording of this track was pretty minimal. It features singer/songwriter Lamide Sanni. It is a song about embracing the courage to open up to love after loss.

4. Your Daddy (Released):

This track has a pop feel to it. It's a song about leaving a toxic relationship and not looking back no matter how tempting it might be

5. Saved (Released): This track is a battle cry, it has the same message as "The Fire". It's a song recorded with a few instruments but leaves a huge impact on the listener, Think Imagine Dragons got to Wakanda.

6. Call You:

This track is special. This was written after Jarell Ebuka went through a panic attack before playing a major gig in London. It's a song that talks about being lost in the Adult world and not knowing exactly what direction you should be going.
